Shou Sugi Ban® charred timber cladding is produced to order.

Lead in times can vary between 1 week and 6 weeks.

We can advise on suitable profiles for your project to achieve your desired effect.

We can provide a Fire Rating finish, if required, to Class 1 and Class 0.

Oil can be applied to maintain the timber at 5 year intervals or when you decide its required, although it is seldom needed.

The Carbon layer created during the burning process preserves the timber and can make the timber resistant to rot, fire and insect attack. This depends upon which finish has been specified.

Shou Sugi Ban® is a true reflection of the Japanese aesthetic called Wabi – Sabi.
